

What is Narenwrich?

The National At-Risk Education Network (NAREN) is a non-profit educational agency dedicated to both promoting the success of at-risk youth in our schools, and supporting the educators who work on their behalf.

NARENWICH is the Wisconsin Chapter of the NAREN organization. NARENWICH strives to:

- Meet the needs of students, parents, teachers, future teachers, administrators, and the general citizenry through a professional organization dedicated to the improvement of services to Wisconsin at-risk youth.
- Provide educational options that allow learners to develop their personal, academic, and career potential on a progressive path to becoming productive citizens.
- Provide technical assistance to practitioners
- Be a change agent for the traditional education system
- Represent the common interest of at-risk learning to the greater community
- Provide professional development opportunities

We are excited to announce

This Year's Keynote:

Dr. Anthony Muhammad

Author of Transforming School Culture

Dr. Muhammad will provide us with dynamic information that teachers can effectively use to improve their skills and relations when working with students at risk.

Dr. Muhammad has earned several awards as both a teacher and a principal. His most notable accomplishment came as principal at Levey Middle School in Southfield, MI, a National School of Excellence, where student proficiency on state assessments was more than doubled in five years. Dr. Muhammad and the staff at Levey used the Professional Learning Communities at Work (PLC) model of school improvement, and they have been recognized as a model, high performing PLC.

See more on Dr. Muhammad in his bio linked on our website or visit his website at www.newfrontier21.com.
